WAIKATO SHOW - 2019

The Hamilton Woodturners' Club continued its annual connection with Waikato Show.

A stall was set up in the Clubs and Creativity" section to promote the club and entice new members.

CAELAN demonstrates how a slimline pen can be modified by having a single long barrel.

Members of the Tuesday team gathered around Caelan's lathe to watch the process in action.

Note: a standard 7mm brad point drill bit won't do the job so an extra-long bit will be required.

Thanks Caelan - an excellent demonstration.

Here it is.

MICHAEL's memorial turning of a pot made from laminate
with an oblique insert of solid wood. The coloured squares
around the rim together with those resin - mounted on the bottom number 50.

The 50 coloured squares around the rim and on the bottom commemorate the 50 people who lost their lives in the recent Christchurch massacre. Goodonya Michael.

Wow!
Look at the swirly grain lines and colour variables of brown and cream.

RICHARD'S platter is a stunner.

GARY turned his block of laminate into a general purpose bowl.

A smooth finish to a fine job here.

GARY used camphor wood to produce yet another practical turning outcome.

He reckons his cold was cured by breathing in the fumes that came from the camphor during the turning.

Top marks for proportion, design and a super finish to this project.

Here he is showing us some of his awesome projects completed by using his bank of new turning skills.

A big welcome to our newest recruit. CLEO CHIN

CLEO has started her woodturning journey. It's just day one in her first course and Cleo can expect to have lots of support from the tutor together with friendly help and advice from her Thursday session colleagues.

Cleo's introductory course will be a ten-week trip into the world of lathes, chisels, gouges, rubbing the bevel, having fun, stretching the creative skills and being amazed at the successful outcomes of several turning projects.

Here's a shot of Cleo using a roughing gouge to turn a square section length into a cylinder. The project also involves fitting a ferrule, and using a 10mm bowl gouge, parting tool, and a mini groover. Enjoy the ride!

The Five things you ought to know today

- 1. Two ladies walk into a buildingyou'd think at least one of them would have seen it.*
- 2. A man came round in hospital after a serious accident. He shouted, 'Doctor, doctor, I can't feel my legs!'
The doctor replied, 'I know you can't, I've had to amputate your arms.'*
- 3. Two wood turners were fishing from a kayak and got really cold. They lit a fire in the craft, it sank, proving once and for all that you can't have your kayak and heat it too.*
- 4. 'Doc I can't stop singing 'The Green, Green Grass of Home'
'That sounds like the Tom Jones syndrome. '
'Is it common?'
'It's not unusual.'*
- 5. A man takes his Rottweiler to the vet. 'My dog is cross-eyed, is there anything you can do for him?'
'Well,' said the vet, 'let's have a look at him'
So he picks the dog up and examines his eyes, then he checks his teeth.
Finally, he says, 'I'm going to have to put him down.'

'What? Because he's cross-eyed?'
'No, because he's really heavy'*
