TOY PROJECT

There's juust 65 days to go before the deadline of December 9

How is your contribution progressing?

BRUCE MACDONALD called in during Tuesday's session and left a couple more of his nifty creations in the toy box. Thanks Bruce, some lucky child will love one of these for Christmas. Members are asked to share their toy making efforts during the session meetings then leave contributions in the storage boxes provided.

THIS WEEK'S TOP TURNING

MITCHELL is a first time turner who worked long hours on his very special accomplishment. Well done Mitchell. The dremel work on your project is outstanding.

REMINDER

The club's end-of-year function is set for Sunday December 9th. Make sure your calendar has been updated.

THIS WEEK'S COMPLETED PROJECTS

GARY used a macro wood block for his small beaded bowl.

Our keen Gary had a shot at bead making after watching a video clip on bead techniques.

Goodonya!

FIRST-EVER GO AT TURNING

BRIAN from England was welcomed to Tuesday's session to have a look at what goes on. Soon after arrival, visitor Brian found a wood turning tool in his hands and completed an excellent dibber.

Now maybe a turning club somewhere in England will be enrolling a new member very soon.

MURRAY used she-oak wood for this project enhanced with a beautifully carved rim etching.

Here's the underside of the same bowl with its special feature of three raised points for legs.

RICHARD's new "Saturn" lathe is getting plenty of work.

A particularly well-turned Olive wood pot here.

Woo Hoo!

MALCOLM's block of oak wood was transformed into a feature-laden bowl. Our Malcolm has achieved a great finish and was successful with his experiment using turquoise filler.

New Members for the THURSDAY session.

Last night we welcomed THREE new members and had them started on the basic skills programme. Project No 1: Making a ferruled handle for a knockout bar.
