TOY PROJECT

There's juust 58 days to go before the deadline of December 9

How is your contribution progressing?

Thursday night member OSCAR made this sooper dooper "Mercedes" truck using the iconic NZ woods swamp kauri and pohutukawa.

Wow! What a special Christmas prezzie.

THIS WEEK'S TOP TURNING

RIC is really chuffed about his resin inlay project. Step-by-step instructions were carefully followed in his first shot at resin enhancements and an excellent result followed.

Methinks there will be more experimental resin work about to get underway.

ENTHUSIASM + RISK-TAKING + NEAGE = ACHIEVEMENT (Goodonya Ric)

THIS WEEK'S COMPLETED PROJECTS

Having had a good measure of success with his first bowl project GARY (unstoppable now) then used a block of young rimu wood for his large wall-beaded bowl.

Confidence growing by the week.

Holy Moley!

GARY's son DAN was a visitor for the day and came to see what his dad was up to. But it wasn't long before a chisel was put in his hands and look at the result – a cedar wood bowl completed in no time at all.

Wow! Methinks wood turning runs in the family skill set.

Well done DAN.

BENCENT extended his learning curve with making a flush-fitting lid for his macro-wood pot.

CAELAN produced two well-made pens during his session time on Tuesday.

Our best wishes for the next few weeks Caelan and we look forward to your return.

ALEX had a first shot at pen making.

His well-embedded NEAGE approach to turning projects ensured a successful outcome.

JAN adopted a think-big approach to her macro-wood bowl project and made a great job of it. A stria-free finish is a special feature.

A surge of new members.

On Wednesday night we were pleased to see the return of two club members- CHRIS and SAM, on Thursday it was a welcome to IVAN PAVICH and then next week we will welcome LEN HELMS into the TUESDAY group.

Thus all three sessions will operating at or near capacity.

All welcome to the Hamilton Wood Turners' Club

Club member MIKE BODEY received commendation for his black walnut hollow form turning that he entered into the recent Kawerau Festival of Wood competitions.

Goodonya Mike.

Good to see CHRIS able to return to the Wednesday session.

In a very short time a big block of redwood was transformed into a hollowed dumpy pot.

SAM is back!... and we are pleased he is too!

Tonight SAM tried a thin walled wet turning with a large block of liquid amber. Great fun, as at the end of the night Sam and his lathe looked buried in shavings.

INFORMATION JUST COME TO HAND

I am selling on behalf of a deceased estate a DVR similar to the one in picture. This lathe has had little use and awaits a keen new owner.

The sale could be offered as a packaged deal that includes a range of tools, chuck etc.

I am checking out the equipment this morning, taking photographs, drawing up a list of associated equipment and estimating a fair price for Hamilton Club members to consider.

If you are interested in this pending offer please contact me as soon as possible. First considerations will be for paid-up members of the Hamilton Wood Turners Club.
