We have been working busily on our first club challenge for the year with a selection of barrels included in today's TT (see below). All who have completed a barrel should bring it to the club on the week commencing 13 April and we will do a group display.

Don't forget tomorrow's Working Bee. The more people we have the faster we get it done, and of course the more time we have for standing around nattering and drinking coffee.

A number of members have been away sick or with sick family members lately. We are thinking of you and wish you all a speedy recovery.

And finally, you will also receive a separate email today from NAW with details regarding the upcoming AGM and demonstration day in Browns Bay. It sounds like it will be a great event.

Mitchell has created a great four corner bowl here in Matai
See how nicely it balances on his fingertips....!

And we are still producing those amazing captive ring goblets. This one is Blackwood from Denis.

Malcolms platter. Macrocarpa, 220mm x 25mm

Waynes pohutakawa bowl

Michaels band saw demo eventually resulted in two quirky draws. This one took some puzzling from the rest of us.

From John B. Platter, 350mm x 35mm.
Unknown wood, any suggestions?

And something from David with some detailed pyrography.

Roll out the Barrels

David . Manuka

Gary. Pohutakawa

John. Pohutakawa and Ash

Another two barrels from Gary. One for small drinks one for big drinks

An elegant Ash bowl from Monika

For extra points...

Where would you find a Keeper Plate?
(Hint. This is not a cricket question.)

Last weeks answer.....Dacrydium Cupressinum is better known as Rimu.
