This week's woodturning news

This week's STANDOUT

COLIN McKENZIE's pohutukawa mini project that fits inside the challenge cup. This turning has been carefully embellished with carvings that are coloured with white ink.

MINI TURNINGS to fit inside the challenge cup.

The current turning challenge is producing some great ideas. Stuck for where to next?

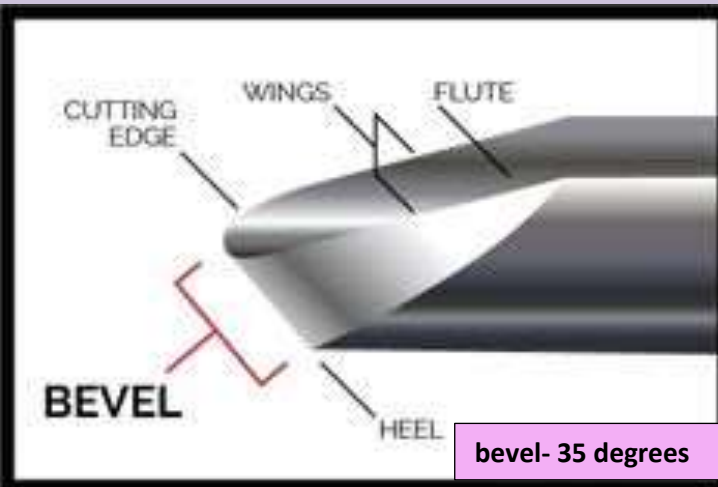

O.K. - Extend your thinking by: adding lids; lids with finials; lids with inlays; lids with etchings; dremel-tool carvings; added colour; creative shapes and combinations of some of the aforementioned ideas.

Within today's TT there's a few mini-box pictures that I hope will spur you on to greater heights and brilliant outcomes.

Remember keep those gouges super-ultra sharp for the best stria-free results.

You have heaps of time as the challenge runs through to the end of April.

Cheers Clive

What does "Riding" or "Rubbing" the bevel mean?
What are effects/advantages of bevel riding/rubbing?
Important: Note the shape of the front cutting edge.

DAVE FREW lacks no courage in having a shot at a new idea. It's a real advantage being clear in your and being able to confidently articulate what you want to make. Goodonya Dave.

COLIN McKenzie – an excellent double bowl stand

COLIN WHITE's chestnut and Tassie Blackwood lidded pot is an eye-catcher with its novel shape.

Remember, if I cannot break it, no-one can!

OK, Which of WENDY WHITE'S three super mini turnings would satisfy the size criterion for the current club challenge? It's mightily to great to observe Wendy's leaps and bounds turning progress.
