The end of the year is fast approaching and there are a number of events coming up to stop you getting bored, and to keep you out of the way while your partner does important stuff at home.

Please take note of the various notices throughout this newsletter and get involved where you can.

Today we have some impressive photos from the guys who received various awards at the NAW Art of Wood Exhibition. Check them out on page two.

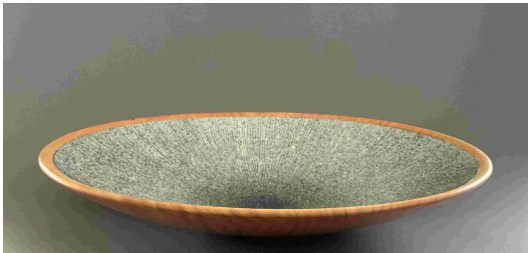

A busy day for the Tuesday group. Michael on the steam bender and Greg on the router table. These guys are always keen to try something new. They do know that this is a woodturning club dont they?

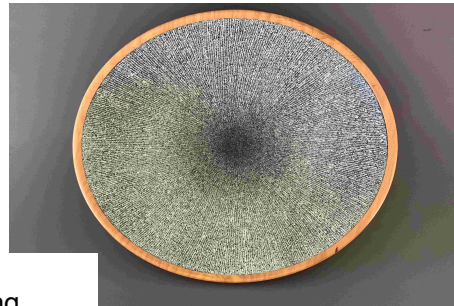

Art of Wood Competition

Robert Wiseleys resin and Juniper bowl was placed third

Robert called this Macrocarpa bowl, 'Creation of the Universe' because it looks like a black hole exploding.

Richard Jacksons entry was this Maire lidded box with painted granite slate effect.

Richards second entry. Pin oak bowl. wet turned and allowed to warp and crack. Scorched and dyed.

Colin MacKenzies entry is called 'Stripes, Slopes and Circles' and earned him a 'Highly recommended'

Purple heart and white Maire

Richard, Robert and Colin had multiple inspiring entries in the Art Of Wood Competition. Congratulations to you all. Check out the full details.

2 December

This is our chance to sell some of what we have created during the year. This is being headed by Michael. Details to follow in the next Turners Tidings.

Bill is still practising his skew skills shown here with his goblet stem

A study in contrasts. Small square plate from Denis and a large bowl from Malcolm P

Working Bee 11 November

Please include the working bee in your busy schedules. There is always plenty to do to keep our premises and our gear up to scratch and ready to use.

Toy Making Day
25 November
9am onwards.

Every year the club produces toys to give away to city charities.
If you have already got underway with your toys, please bring them in and leave them in the Toy Box provided.
If you would like to make some toys, come along to this day and get stuck in. There will be plans and ideas and help available.

A great way to give back.
