This week's woodturning news

The dreaded COVID strikes again!

Wednesday and Thursday sessions had to be cancelled as per the lockdown requirements.

The future is uncertain. The Level 4 lockdown has been extended until Tuesday 2359 Hours. A further review will determine what happens after that..

Some of this week's TT is made up of members' contributions being emailed to me for Inclusion.

A huckery slab of white maire didn't have much going for it until our STEPHEN HAWLEY transformed it into this smart bit of wood art. Yes, it is possible....A sows' ear got turned into a silk purse!

This week's STANDOUT

ALAN made an excellent job of his "fit-around-hinge" turning challenge.

Special features are the accurate precision fitting of the hinge and the quality of the finish.

Perseverance with the lid indicates our NEAGE approach has been well applied.

Goodonya Alan.

DAVID ROSE added a motif to his superb lidded pot. Complementary colours give it a special look.

MELISSA sent this photo with a challenge to the TT readers. ---“Here are two finished things--a sponge holder (with 4 bars), and a soap holder (5 bars). The pegs are turned, but so are the sides! All four pieces were the result of a single turning--can you figure it out?”

(Made of tropical hardwood pallet wood)

Videos to watch

There are several interesting videos to watch and good for filling in time during this LOCKDOWN period.

Type in: woodturnerscatalog.com

Go to Left hand side at the bottom of column and click on Videos Go to Instructional

Make yourself a cuppa, sit back and watch a video or two of your choice.

SATURDAY MORNING - 21st August

COVID Lockdown – Sorry our WORKSHOP has to be closed.

The extended lockdown includes the session planned for next TUESDAY, 24th August so no session will be possible for that day.

A review will be undertaken next week and further announcements will be made accordingly. Watch this space and continue to check your emails regarding open or closed workshops.

Stay well and stay safe

Cheers

CLIVE
