Tutor's comment

Wow! Last Tuesday we had more turners than we had lathes. What a muster!

Many thanks to JOHN BAKER who offered a successful solution to our happy predicament.

Have you updated your diaries by booking Sunday 11th December for our Christmas function?

Tool sharpening, chuck and lathe servicing and wood supply and sorting are in need of immediate attention and likely be the main purpose of Saturday's working bee.

WORKSHOP

WORKING BEE

9.00am – 12 noon

A stunning project turnout from ROBERT.

The Dremel tool etching around the rim took many hours of patient work to complete.

Can you identify the wood used?

MATHEMATICS

If I got 50 cents for every failed math exam, I'd have $6.30 now.

HAZEL, a new Wednesday session recruit has just completed the club's introductory basic skills project - a knockout bar.

Hazel took to the roughing gouge and 10mm bowl gouge with ease.

Successful with spigot making, shaping and sanding too.

Next project – a twig vase.

From the workshop of
RICHARD JACKSON

Macrocarpa wall hanging etched with a pyrographic tool and decorated with spirit dyes.

There are many expressions of creativity and this one is a real doozy. Goodonya Richard

I can't believe I got fired from the calendar factory. All I did was take a day off.

JOHN's lidded pot has been enhanced with very smart pyrographic markings .

JOHN replaced the broken glass base with a wooden companion.

WORKING BEE tomorrow, Saturday –

9.00am to 12 noon

BILL produced this curvy pot example in a very short time. The shavings are flying off his turnings these days.

VEGETABLE PLANTS FOR SALE

Vege Plants for sale. Yesterday a customer really liked our plants so she bought 153 pots/punnets.

We sell pots/punnets @$2.50 which is about half of what they cost anywhere else.

Our well grown plants are raised in our natural compost and are readily available right now.

Maybe we will see you soon.

Clive and Delia Wilson

COLIN can turn his hand to most ideas expressed in wood.

These buttons will be displayed as wall hangings.

TONY met another woodturning challenge with this project - using the LONGWORTH chuck.

Great job Tony

OK that's it for this week.

Have a safe and happy weekend. Clive
